THE CLEARFIELD PROGRESS, CLEARFIELD, PA. MONDAY EVENING FEBRUARY 2, 1920

NUMBER 177

POPULATION OF BOROUGH WILL NOT REACH 10,000

CAREFUL CANVASS OF ENTIRE CITY
PROPER INDICATES FIGURES WILL
NOT EXCEED 9600

LAST CENSUS SHOWED ONLY 6851

The taking of the census of Clearfield was finally completed on January 22nd last, and the official returns made to Supervisor of the Census, F. E. Costello, at Bradford. The official announcement of the result of the "count of noses" in Clearfield will not be given until May or June, according to the present plans of the Census Department, and accordingly each census taker was cautioned against giving out any figures pertaining to the number of persons in his particular district.

The local enumerators were:
First Ward—Miss Sara Lawhead.
Second Ward—Ralph W. Pearce.
Third Ward—Ed. C. Bowman.
Fourth Ward—Joseph E. Phillips.

Several people in different sections of town have informed The Progress that the enumerator for his district missed getting the tabulation at his home, and for the purpose of correcting any errors, if such there be, we would like to have all persons whom the enumerators failed to call upon, to notify The Progress office, in order that the matter can be taken up with the enumerator and the census authorities and have the correction made.

The Progress know our people did not want to have to wait for six months after the count was made before finding out just how many people were within the corporate limits of our progressive little city, and in order to relieve them of that long wait, we decided to go into the "nose counting" business on our own hook.

and as we changed our paper currency system the first of the year, we enlisted our army of seventeen carrier boys and our news gathering agencies and went to work. Our count shows that we fall a few hundred short of the 10,000 goal within the corporate limits of the town.

According to our figures, and we guarantee the official count will not deviate one hundred either way, the population of Clearfield numbers 9,600. This total is made up as follows:

First Ward	1,547
Second Ward	3,196
Third Ward	3,080
Fourth Ward	1,877
Total	9,600

The above figures just represent the people resident within the corporate limits of the borough, and fails to take account of the people of Hillsdale, Wrigley Addition, Snyder Terrace, Plymptonville, Paradise, Kerr Addition, and the other scattered residents located right at the edge of the borough limits. All of these people are within one mile of the Court House and can be justly and very properly styled Clearfielders, and were their number added to the total within the corporate limits, would make Clearfield a town of more than 12,000 people. According to the figures of the 1910 census, there was a total of 6,851 persons in Clearfield borough, the gain during the past ten years amounting to 2,829 persons.

DID HOOVER KEEP DOWN C. OF L.?

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Propaganda is being spread over the country to help Herbert Hoover's presidential aspirations by making it appear that he as Food Administrator kept the cost of living down. Senator Gronna of North Dakota, told the Senate today. Gronna protested against such propaganda.

SADLER DECLARES WAR ON ILLEGAL AUTO DRIVING

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 31.—(United Press)—In an article written for a monthly automobile publication, Edward A. Sadler, State Highway Commissioner Lewis Sadler said that "ninety-five per cent. of the drivers of automobiles in Pennsylvania observe the rules of the road and the laws of the state."

Continuing the Commissioner said: "It is in our power to prevent the remaining five per cent. from destroying the utility and pleasure of motoring, and we are going to do it just the same as those in power are going to prevent the 'Red' five per cent. of our population from destroying American institutions."

"Every man and woman of the ninety-five per cent. of owners and drivers of trucks and passenger automobiles who want to obey the laws has a duty to constitute himself a volunteer policeman. Every automobile club in Pennsylvania should train its members to aid in enforcing the highway laws."

"We must drive from the highways those who do not observe the rights of others, whose very presence on our thoroughfares is a menace, in whose wakes are death and injury and loss of property."

"It is our duty as the desire of this ninety-five per cent. of us to get the maximum use out of our highways. We want all the people to have the benefit of the roads, but they must not abuse their privileges."

"What a man's rights and privileges are in the use of roads has been interpreted by the legislature in the Act of 1919, and it is our duty to see that this law is observed. People who don't observe it are apt, indeed, to be deprived of their licenses."

"State highways are maintained from the funds secured through the annual vehicle registration fees charged those who use them. From the same fund they are policed. If the presence of criminally negligent or willful violators of the law requires a large force of inspectors to enforce that law, the charge will cut down the funds available for maintenance and the amount of motorists must pay will be increased."

"Shall automobile license fees be increased because willful or negligent men misuse our thoroughfares?"

"Most violations of the law result from thoughtlessness. But motoring has increased to such an extent that the presence of thoughtless persons has become a menace. Drivers of cars must be taught to be thoughtful and alert. It would be an excellent thing were motor clubs to collect information relative to violations of the law, in order to facilitate its administration. Paraphrasing a great American, 'the roads of Pennsylvania will not be safe for any of us to use until they are safe for all of us to use.' We must join together to make it unpopular to be a lawbreaker. We must bring public opinion to the point where there will be no place among us for the man who runs amuck, who drives as he pleases, regardless of the rights of others. And when public sentiment is crystallized to the point where that man is deemed an outlaw who doesn't pursue the rules of the road and observe the motor laws when these careless or indifferent or actually criminal infractions will be deprived of the use of them."

"Men of women who apply for diverse licenses for automobiles, under the law regulating registration for 1920 and thereafter, are asked to tell whether or not they have ever been summoned before any officer of the law for a violation of the act regulating the use and operation of motor vehicles."

"Not only because the State Highway Department wishes to know who are the violators of the law, but because it wants to know whence speed traps exist, or whether certain peace officers are unduly active in making arrests or issuing summons."

"It is as important that motorists be not victimized as it is important that they obey the law; and the department hopes to break up the practices alleged against certain officers who seek not to perform a duty but to get an income."

C. B. SHAW DEAD OF GUNSHOT WOUND

C. B. Shaw, one of the proprietors of the Clearfield Central Garage, and a son of the late A. B. Shaw, was found lying in a box car at the Pennsylvania freight station, shortly after noon today, in a serious condition from a gun-shot wound in the head. He was removed at once to the Clearfield Hospital, where death ensued shortly after his admission.

About the noon hour Forrest Livingston, one of the clerks at the freight station, passed Mr. Shaw coming down the platform as he was going to his dinner. He spoke pleasantly as he passed.

Upon Mr. Livingston's return from dinner, in passing down the platform he heard screams issuing from an open box car on the siding. Stepping into the car he found Mr. Shaw lying on the floor with a small pearl handled revolver lying by his side. An examination disclosed that the badly wounded man had evidently placed the muzzle of the gun in his mouth and sent a bullet through his head.

The deceased was about 50 years of age and his sad end was a horrifying shock to his family and friends. He is survived by a widow and one son, two brothers and seven sisters.

BIG BILL HAYWOOD AMONG INDICTED BY CHICAGO JURY

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Indictments against thirty-seven members of the I. W. W. were returned this morning by the special grand jury investigating radical activities.

Chief among those indicted were William D. ("Big Bill") Haywood, former secretary of the organization now at liberty from Leavenworth prison under bond, and Thomas Whitehead, who succeeded Haywood as secretary.

Besides Haywood and Whitehead, those indicted include: George Speer, chairman of the I. W. W. executive committee; Charles H. Miller, Henry Bradley, George Bradley, and Fred Nelson, all members of the committee.

Another of the prisoners is Roscoe T. Sins, janitor of the Chicago city hall and said to be the leader of the negro branch of the I. W. W.

The indictments were returned secretly before Chief Justice Crowe early this morning. At 10 o'clock the I. W. W. leaders appeared in Judge Pam's court to answer to other charges already pending against them. They were met by agents of the state attorney's office and the thirty-seven principals were sorted out and placed under arrest.

The indictments complete the work of the "red" grand jury. Last week the grand jurors indicted eighty-five members of the Communist party and thirty-eight members of the Communist Labor party.

The charges in all cases are conspiracy to overthrow the government and advocating the overthrow of the government by force.

The indictments of the leading figures in the three radical organizations are the outgrowth of the sensational New Year's eve roundup, in which State's Attorney Madley Hynes, assisting federal authorities by twenty-four hours, arrested more than 300 persons suspected of being members of the three groups.

ALEXANDER HAMILTON IRVIN

Alexander Hamilton Irvin, fourth son of William and Jane Patton Irvin, was born in Curwensville, Pa., May 17th, 1839, and died at his residence in that place on January 31st, 1920, aged seventy years, eight months and fourteen days. He had been in failing health for the past two years, but his last illness was of only two weeks duration. Mr. Irvin was born and died on a plot of ground which has been in the Irvin family for more than a hundred years—a rare occurrence in these days of constant change.

He was united in marriage with Jane Patton Livingston on October 26th, 1876, who died February 27th, 1915. The following children survive: John P. and Daniel L., both of Curwensville, and Mrs. Benjamin Nichols (nee Jane Irvin) of Waters, California. Also one sister, Miss Alice M. Irvin, of Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. Irvin attended the schools of his native town, and also Lawrenceville Academy, Lawrenceville, N. J.; Hill School, Pottstown, Pa.; and Pennsylvania Military Academy, Chester, Pa. He began his business career by locating pine timber lands in Michigan, later crossing the Rockies into Montana where, in connection with English and Japanese capitalists, he engaged in mining operations. He was also interested in timber lands in Texas and Arkansas. Later he became identified with the Disston Land Company of Florida and laid out Henden park in that state.

Returning to Curwensville Mr. Irvin, looking about for a new opening, recognized the business possibilities of the Hotchkiss Paper Fastener and machines, which up to that time had not met with success. He secured from the manufacturers at Norwalk, Conn. the exclusive rights for the sale of this machine in the United States. In order to do this Mr. Irvin had to give a bond guaranteeing to dispose each month of the entire output of the Hotchkiss factory. In view of the fact that the invention was then practically unknown, and he believed to be a failure, and that Mr. Irvin had neither the capital nor the organization to introduce it, the outlook to any ordinary man would have been most discouraging.

It was at this point, however, that Mr. Irvin displayed his astounding and extraordinary ability. With the enthusiasm born of his undaunted faith in the merits of the invention, he interested Fred J. Dyer in the project, and he became associated with him in the business. By personal solicitation and liberal advertising Mr. Irvin soon created such a demand for the machine that all dealers in office supplies were compelled to carry it in stock. In a short time the demand became so great that not only was he disposing of the entire output of the factory, but the plant had to be enlarged to supply his orders.

So great was his success that the Hotchkiss Company gave him sole control of the sale of the machine throughout the world. Mr. Irvin then sailed for Europe and visited the principal cities of England, France, Belgium, Italy, Germany and Austria personally introducing and securing the adoption of the machine in many government departments and large industrial plants.

In the twenty odd years in which Mr. Irvin has been engaged in this business it has grown until today the Hotchkiss machine is known and used in every civilized country on the globe. The daily mail received at his office contains letters from all over the world, and he has verily placed Curwensville "on the map."

A large portion of his success was due to his unusually strong personality, which almost invariably secured him a hearing, and to the fairness of his business methods.

Always public-spirited, no worthy cause ever appealed to him in vain. He was particularly fond of the society of the young, and was never happier than when giving pleasure to his many young friends. A courteous, thoughtful and kind, Mr. Irvin will be missed by the entire community.

The funeral was held from his late residence on Monday, February 2nd, 1920, at 2 o'clock, Rev. E. E. Parkhill, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Lock Haven, Pa., and Rev. Bertina Conley, pastor of the Curwensville Presbyterian church, officiating. The pall-bearers were: F. J. Dyer, C. S. Russell, M. I. Gardner, Miles Porter, A. Z. Wolf, Sr., and M. A. Caldwell. Interment in the family plot in Oak Hill cemetery.

GRAND JURY AT WORK

The Grand Jury for February term of quarter sessions court began its inquiry into the criminal list before them this morning. John H. Anger, of Clearfield, was appointed foreman by Judge Bell. There are 50 cases on the list.

SAFE BLOWERS AT WOODLAND AGAIN

Four men broke into the Pennsylvania passenger station at Woodland at an early hour this morning and blew the office safe to smithereens but were frightened away before they could gather up the money the safe contained and which was tossed and scattered about by the force of the explosion.

The attempted robbery occurred between 1 and 1:30 o'clock, entrance being gained through the ware room which is a part of the station building.

The noise of the explosion awakened Ashley Duke, who lives nearby, and it was Mr. Duke's prompt action which no doubt drove the rogues away without their expected booty. Mr. Duke saw four men at the station and satisfying himself a robbery was under way he got his gun and began to blaze away at the thieves, who promptly beat it down the track.

Agent Henderson was notified and repairing to the scene found the station littered with the busted safe and contents, but reports no booty secured by the thieves.

Constable Barger was soon on the ground and took up the trail of the safeblowers but they appear to have made good their getaway.

CLEARFIELD COUNTY FAIR DATES ARE SEPT. 27 TO OCT. 1

Secretary Joseph E. Phillips, of the Clearfield County Agricultural Society, attended the meeting of the Pennsylvania State Association of County Fairs held in Pittsburgh on Wednesday last. The dates for the county fairs to be held throughout the state during 1920, were fixed at this meeting.

There are two fair circuits in the Western part of the state and the local Agricultural Society joined both these circuits and was given dates for their fair in each circuit. At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Agricultural Society held this morning it was decided to affiliate this year with what is known as the Keystone Short Ship Circuit and accept the date allotted the Clearfield County Fair of from September 28th to October 1st.

This date was chosen because it will give our farmers the opportunity of making a better display of their farm products, as about all Clearfield county crops are fully matured at that time. Besides the fall equinoctial storms will be over by that time and settled weather may be expected.

The Clearfield County Fair will be the week following the Altoona Fair and races, and will thus make it possible to secure a better and larger class of race horses for Clearfield, as it is expected the horses will be shipped from Altoona to Clearfield and from Clearfield to New Kensington the following week.

A new grand stand, new stables and many other improvements will be made at the park this year and the Clearfield County Fair for 1920 made the biggest event of its kind to be held in Central Pennsylvania.

LODGE WILL ASK TREATY BE TAKEN UP AT ONCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Senator Lodge today gave formal notice to the Senate that on next Monday he will ask unanimous consent that the Senate rule be suspended and the peace treaty reservations be taken up. If the unanimous consent is refused, Lodge announced he will move to suspend the rule. Lodge's announcement, made just after the Senate met, apparently astounded the Democratic Senators who asked him to repeat it. The surprise was due to the fact that Senator Walsh, of Montana, gave notice on behalf of Senator Hitchcock that the latter would move on February 10, to take up the treaty. Lodge thus forestalled Hitchcock's move as the Senate will open debate on the motion a day before Hitchcock's.

RAIL DIRECTOR HINES TO ANSWER RAILROAD WAGE DEMANDS TOMORROW

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—A definite answer to the demands for higher wages by the railroad workers will be made by Rail Director Hines tomorrow according to information at the Railroad Administration today.

Hines it was said will be prepared to give a flat answer to the representatives of more than two million workers who will meet with him at 10 a. m. tomorrow. The unions to be represented are the four brotherhoods, the signal workers, maintenance of way employees and station agents.

LORD GREY SAYS RESERVATIONS WILL NOT NULLIFY TREATY

The ratification of the peace treaty without reservations is not entirely necessary to the full accomplishment of all the aims of the framers of the league of nations covenant, in the opinion of Lord Grey, British Ambassador to Washington, in a letter to the London Times in which he explains to the people of his country the reasons for the refusal of certain senators to accept the league, a la Wilson.

According to this letter, the fair minded Briton does not blame us for holding on to a few of the prerogatives of an independent nation. He says, "no charge of bad faith or repudiating signatures can be brought against the action of the United States. The Senate, by the American constitution, is an independent body—an independent element in the treaty making power. Its refusal to ratify the covenant cannot expose either itself or the country to a charge of bad faith or of repudiation, nor is it fair to represent the United States as holding up the treaty solely from motives of party politics."

Affirming that the league issue is national and above party politics Lord Grey declares that the United States has reason and right to provide against its pitfalls if there be any. His exposition of the case is clear and convincing:

"There is in the United States a conservative feeling for traditional policy, and one of those traditions, consecrated by the advice of Washington, is to abstain from foreign and particularly from European entanglements. Even for nations which have been used to European alliances, the League of Nations is felt to be something of a new departure. This is still more true for the United States, which has hitherto held aloof from all outside alliances. The League of Nations is not merely a plunge into the unknown but a plunge into something which its historical advice and tradition have hitherto positively disapproved. Hence this desire for some qualification and reservation. The American constitution not only makes possible, but under certain conditions renders inevitable, conflict between the executive and the legislative. It would be possible, if the covenant of the League of Nations stands, for a President in some future years, to commit the United States, through its American representative on the council of the League of Nations, to a policy which the legislature at that time might disapprove. That contingency is one which cannot arise in Great Britain, where the government is daily responsible to the representative authority of the House of Commons, and where, in case of conflict between the House of Commons and the government, the latter must either immediately give way or public opinion must decide between them and assert itself by an immediate general election. But in the United States it is otherwise. The contingency is within the region of practical politics. They have reason, and, if they so desire, the right to provide against it."

That American reservations will not weaken the league is the belief of Lord Grey.

"It would be a great mistake to suppose that because the citizens of the United States wish to limit their obligations they therefore propose to themselves to play a small part in the league of nations. If they enter the league as a willing partner with limited obligations, it may well be that American opinion and American action inside the league will be more fruitful than if they entered as a reluctant partner, who felt that her hand had been forced. It is in this spirit, in this hope and in this expectation that I think we should approach and are justified in approaching the consideration of the American reservations. The difficulties and dangers which Americans foresee in it will probably never arise or be felt by them when they are once in the league. In the same way the weakening and injury to the league which some of its best friends apprehend from American reservations would not be felt in practice."

Checks are Essential

The people who use bank checks could hardly do without them and nothing can take the place of personal checks.

Your personal check on the Bank is a dated and signed order for the Bank to pay from your funds on deposit, the amount in dollars and cents, to the person you name.

Each check does its work in a reliable way, and furnishes you a trustworthy record of each transaction for your future reference. The amount stays paid. If you do not pay with checks, begin now. Make arrangements here.

NEW, GREAT FORCES AT WORK

Demand for New Order of Things is Universal and Reactionaries Merely Swell the Rising Tide of Discontent.

Article IV.

By FRANK COMERFORD.

The most obvious thing in Europe is the changed attitude of the people, and yet there are many, particularly in the conservative, employing class, who refuse to see. While they close their eyes and minds to the obvious, the change goes on. It is not idle rhetoric to say that new great forces are at work. Of course you cannot see the forces any more than you can see the grass growing, but you can see the effects. You can measure the character of the forces.

Everywhere I found people talking about a new Order. Men separated by hundreds of miles are thinking and talking the same ideas. It startled me to hear the same ideas up in the Balkans that I had heard in France and England. I did not meet any one who was able to give me a clear, complete meaning of the phrase, but it is on the lips of everyone. It has a meaning, and time will produce a plan. The people are forward looking—they are thinking, waiting for something to happen. They have faith that it will happen and that it will bring great good to the human race. Every one seems confident that some great compensation must and will come out of the siege of suffering through which they have passed. If they were not so earnest, so sane, so determined about it I should have interpreted their enthusiasm as fantasy.

A meaningless minority of reactionaries scorn and scoff at all talk of a new Order. These are the backward-looking men of big business, the stand-patters in politics. They are out of touch with the times; they think the real world is the little circle in which they live. They are the barnacles on big business. They snugly set down all talk of change as bolshevism. Fortunately the real leaders of business are breaking away from this point of view. Progressive, human and open minded, they see and know that unrest is a problem and that it must be solved. They are paying heed to the complaints of the workers. They admit that there is justice back of the complaints. Instead of arguing coercion, they are talking concession. They know a change has come, they want to meet it.

New Order Must Come.

A new Order will come. The one question that is bothering the minds of men who are awake to the change is, will it come through revolution or through evolution. The greatest friend of revolution is the stubborn employer who refuses to see the change, accepts things as they are, and insists upon the use of force as the only cure for unrest.

Money is a gross thing when compared with human life. To mention Europe's financial losses in the same breath with her dead and wounded, seems sordid, but it is an everyday world and in it money has its logical place. Since the war some people are thinking that money has had too important a place in the world. It has been charged with pushing man out of his place, but bills must be paid and Europe needs money. The war cost billions and had to be paid and paid in shells, rifles, cannons, airplanes, ships, were made. Europe owes the money. How will she pay it; where will she get it? It is a question that even the wisest and most optimistic of men in Europe hesitate to answer. Some wonder, is there an answer?

Europe has borrowed until her interest charge today is almost as large as her whole cost of governmental administration was a few years ago. I heard Lloyd George say that England faced a yearly interest charge of three hundred million pounds. Another official told me that this interest charge that England must pay each year is nearly one hundred million pounds a year larger than the cost of administration was at the time of the War. Only the other day her interest was due on some loans from the United States and she was forced to default, and our government charged the interest to the principal and passed the day of payment on. In the meantime the pound is going down in value. When I was on the Continent it had reached $1.14. Today it is under $0.87, and steadily going down.

France is in even a worse plight. The banks are loaded with government paper. She has made no provision by taxation to pay her debt. I was told on every hand that any effort to impose a tax would bring on a revolution. It is said that her debt has reached the staggering figure of $640 for every man, woman and child in the country. When I left Cherbourg to sail for America a regulation had been put into effect prohibiting any one leaving France from taking money

HOT WATER FOR SICK HEADACHES

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headaches are caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons collect, toxins, sucked into the blood, excite the heart, which pumps the blood so fast that it congests the in the smaller arteries and veins of the head, producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilid, aspirin or the bromides, which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drunk before breakfast, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache, but will cleanse, purify and freshen the alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphated hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Because Her Mother Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I could not write all my thanks for your blessed medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in a very bad condition and had lost two babies. One of my good friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after I had taken eight or ten bottles I felt like a different woman. I kept on taking it until my baby girl was born last month and we have had her christened Lydia Elizabeth. I wish you to publish my letter to benefit other women who are suffering as I was."—Mrs. KATHERINE KUBERACKER, 1888 Manhattan Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Women who suffer from any feminine ailment should not lose hope until they have tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The many convincing testimonials constantly published in the newspapers ought to be proof enough for women who suffer from these distressing peculiarities to their sex that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the remedy they need.

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Keep the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the most nearly effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10c and 25c.

SMALL IRISH TOWN PUTS ECONOMIC BLOCKADE INTO EFFECT AGAINST ULSTER

By WEBB MILLER

DUBLIN. (By Mail).—Tuam, a little town of 3,000 inhabitants in Galway on the west coast of Ireland, is the pioneer in the "economic blockade of Ulster" plan which the Sinn Féiners are advocating to force the Ulsterites into political submission. The originators of the economic pressure scheme planned to hold it over the head of Ulster as a threat until the crisis on the home rule bill, but headstrong Tuam refused to wait.

So a large number of merchants of Tuam have started to sever commercial relations with the north. And the powerful Ulster business interests are beginning to realize how serious such a "blockade" would be if it becomes general throughout the south.

In the first week of economic warfare one Belfast traveling salesman had twenty-three longstanding accounts closed by Tuam merchants.

PROBLEMS FACING STRICKEN WORLD

with him, either metal or paper money. In excess of a thousand francs, and on that day you could buy almost nine francs for an American dollar. Can France pay? The figures prove France insolvent. Her officials and her men of prominence say she cannot pay. Her war debt is enormous.

Poverty on Every Side.

Italy is as bankrupt as France. A forced loan temporarily held the lira from losing all its value. Her war debt threatens the throne.

In the new Balkan countries we find no gold reserve, little but poverty. In Czechoslovakia the government closed the borders for ten days, commanded the people to bring their money to the banks where stamps were put on the bills. When they brought their money they were given 50 per cent of it back and receipts for the balance. In this way the government cut down the volume of paper money 50 per cent. Even after this was done in the city of Prague I bought kronas for some running as high as $70,000 a year, while the total of the cancelled accounts aggregated over a quarter of a million dollars. Meanwhile the salesmen failed to book a single order. Although Tuam, trade does not "cut much ice" in Belfast, the incident has aroused the apprehensions of the big business interests of the northern metropolis, and shown them the serious possibilities of a general extension of the boycott.

The advocates of the scheme declare that in case it becomes necessary to extend the boycott to other towns, the people will be called upon to boycott any stores that refuse to fall in line with the blockade.

They assert that more than twenty-five percent of Belfast's trade is distributed through and that such a boycott would hit Belfast a heavy blow. They are convinced that the business men would go to almost any lengths to avoid the extension to other cities.

less than two cents a piece.

In Poland every kind and species of paper money is in circulation. Her founders have not been fixed by the peace table, and the profiteers in money smuggling have dumped the worthless paper of Europe into Poland. In October I was in Warsaw and my recollection is that the mark was worth about two cents in American money. Poland has no metal money. She hasn't a gold reserve. Her struggle to get credit to keep her people from dying by the millions from hunger and cold is pitiful.

Austria is penniless, poverty-stricken. Vienna is a city of ghosts, listless, hopeless, human beings. They drag their feet after them. Their heads are bent between their shoulders. The krona was worth a cent when I was there in September, and even at that price there was practically nothing to buy. Austria in her extremity, her people starving, petitioned the peace table for the privilege of selling her art treasures and her homes. The plan was to exchange them for bread and coal. Necessity prompted the plan. The peace table refused the permission, holding that these things of value might be the only collateral out of which the allies could collect the indemnity.

Europe's debt is her crown of thorns, as her dead is her cross. Unrest is her Calvary. A new order is Shoemakers' Wax a Liquid.

It is not always possible to draw a very clear line of demarcation between a liquid and a solid. Shoemakers' wax, which is so brittle that the fragmentation obtained when a sheet of it is hit by a hammer resembles that in the case of the very brittle metal antimony, is actually a liquid. To show this place leaden bullets upon a sheet of shoemakers' wax and then support the whole upon corks. At the end of a month the corks will be found floating upon the sheet of wax instead of beneath it and the bullets will be at the bottom as in a liquid.

Thor ELECTRIC WASHING MACHINE

ABSOLUTELY FREE

HERE is an extra special offer we are making for a limited time. We will put a Thor Electric Washing Machine in your home absolutely without cost to you. We want to do a regular washing for you, the biggest washing you have—fine laces, heavy blankets, anything and everything you wish—and we will send an expert to do it. Then, after you have seen what the Thor will do, it is for you to decide whether you can afford to get along without it or whether you wish to pay us $10.00 down and the balance in easy monthly payments.

We want every housewife in town to own this wonderful machine. Every housewife ought to own one. She owes it to herself, her family and her good health. Aside from its economy a Thor Washing Machine is a health saver and this is your golden opportunity to find out what it will do without a single penny of cost. The Thor has the full-swinging wringer.

WHY THE THOR IS THE SUPREME MACHINE

It has the all-metal, full-swinging wringer, which cannot be operated until locked in position.

It is built to wear and will last a lifetime.

It is unqualifiedly guaranteed by the Hurley Machine Company, the largest manufacturer of washing machines in the world.

It is a cylinder machine and every laundryman in this country will tell you that he uses cylinder machines and that they are the only practical thing.

It washes clothes clean—absolutely clean—without tearing or otherwise damaging them. A sweet, White Maple cylinder does the work.

The Thor has a full-length gas-burner that boils your clothes while they are being washed. This insures spotlessly white and sterilized garments.

Electric current and gas for operation costs approximately three cents per hour.

There are no belts to break or catch the clothes of the operator; steel shafts and gears all enclosed assure safety first and make it foolproof.

The Thor has stood the test of fourteen years' service and today is used in more than 600,000 American homes.

Good Housekeeping Institute unqualifiedly endorses the Thor.

Now reach for your phone. Tell us to send a Thor machine to your home to day for a FREE trial.

Carrying a Ton a Mile for less than a Cent

Freight rates have played a very small part in the rising cost of living.

Other causes—the waste of war, under-production, credit inflation—have added dollars to the cost of the necessities of life, while freight charges have added only cents.

The average charge for hauling a ton of freight a mile is less than a cent.

A suit of clothing that sold for $30 before the war was carried 2,265 miles by rail from Chicago to Los Angeles for 16½ cents.

Now the freight charge is 22 cents and the suit sells for $50.

The cost of the suit has increased 20 dollars.
The freight on it has increased only 5½ cents.

Other transportation charges enter into the cost of the finished article—carrying the wool to the mills and the cloth to the tailors—but these other charges amount to but a few cents more.

The $10 pair of shoes that used to sell for $5 goes from the New England factory to the Florida dealer for a freight charge of 53 cents—only one cent more than the pre-war rate.

Beef pays only two-thirds of a cent a pound freight from Chicago to New York.

American freight rates are the lowest in the world.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. contemplate holding an apron social in the basement parlors of the M. E. church on Friday evening, February 6. An interesting program has been arranged to take place, after which refreshments will be served.

Mr. Dunning, who was employed at the Blackford refractories plant for some time has resigned and removed with his family to Williamsport.

C. A. Rorabaugh, the insurance man is now comfortably located with his office in a room on corner of Main and Thompson streets.

Several cases of the "flu" are reported in Pike township, within one mile of the borough limits. The afflicted persons are Mrs. George McClure and son, who make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hartzfeld.

Teddy Rocco, leader of the Crescent band and employed as an office retainer at the brick works, will leave in a few days for his old home in Italy.

Miss Louisa Kaystetter has gone to Philadelphia where she will enter as a student nurse in the University hospital. She was accompanied by her mother, who will spend a week in the city with friends.

Miss Clara Passorelli left Sunday for Philadelphia where she will resume her duties in becoming a trained nurse in the Temple hospital.

Miss Esther Robinson left on Sunday for Pittsburgh where she will be the guest of her sister and other relatives for the next two weeks.

Mrs. Mary McNaull and Mrs. J. A. Bloom have gone to Carnegie where they will spend several weeks visiting in the family of Fred Bloom and wife.

All of the fraternal and secret societies of Curwensville are busily engaged in building up their membership. The Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Red Men and Moose, all have classes of initiates who are receiving their first lessons in the unwritten work of the organizations to which they are attaching themselves.

Great complaint is being voiced at all of the mines and brick yards of the scarcity of cars in which to ship their product. The mines were idle several days last week, while at both brick yards at Lumber City and here brick are piling up in the stock sheds to such an extent as to discommode the plants from running in full. The shipments from the Curwensville yard would have reached 4,000,000 bricks could a sufficient number of cars been obtained.

Mrs. John P. Irvin has been confined to her home the past week by illness.

Gary Bronetti was taken suddenly ill Saturday night. For some hours his condition was critical, but at this writing it is thought that he has passed the danger line.

Mrs. A. K. Draucker, of Philadelphia, spent several days in town among friends the latter part of last week. She came to Clearfield to attend the funeral of her brother Geo. J. Thompson.

John Hummel died Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock at his home on Bloomington avenue, of pneumonia, coupled with stomach and liver trouble, aged about 50 years, 9 months. He was employed at the brick yard and one week ago was taken ill. He was born and raised in Brady township and was married to a Miss Winkert, who survives him with three sons and one daughter. His funeral will be held from the home on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Connelly officiating. Interment in Oak Hill cemetery.

Harry Ogden lost a valuable horse out of his team. The animal was kicked on a leg and had it broken, necessitating the killing of the animal.

Mrs. S. C. Watts is reported ill and is confined to her home by an attack of tonsillitis.

A number of young folks drove to Lumber City Friday evening and spent several hours in the home of Katherine Hile.

In the death of Alexander H. Irvin, which occurred at his home on River street on Saturday, January 31st, Curwensville loses another one of its worthy, charitable and enterprising citizens. His death was not a surprise to the community, as the word had been passed from home to home that his physical ailment had passed all medical skill and that his death was only of a moment, and his family could do nothing to relieve pain and suffering, but only watch for the end. Alexander H. Irvin was the youngest son of William and Jane P. Irvin, and was born in Curwensville in the year 1850. After reaching manhood, he engaged in the lumber business, and during middle life was interested in various other business pursuits, which he managed quite successfully. He was united in marriage to Miss Jennie Livingston a daughter of Daniel and Elizabeth Livingston and to this union five children were born, two of whom died in infancy. His wife died February 28, 1915. Deceased was a charitable man and during his life gave to the poor and needy almost one-half of his income. By his death the entire William Irvin family consisting of nine children have passed away, with one exception. Miss Alice Irvin, who resides in Philadelphia. Deceased is survived by two sons, John P. and Daniel L. Irvin, both residing in Curwensville, and one daughter, Mrs. Jane Nichols, who lives in Arizona. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon from the home. Rev. Connelly of the Presbyterian church conducting the services. Interment in Oak Hill cemetery.

NOTICE

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid, of the M. E. church, will be held in the ladies' parlor of the church, Wednesday afternoon, February 4th, at 2 o'clock, followed by a 15c lunch. The public is cordially invited. F2-2t-ch

MRS. FRANK PETTIGREW DIES

Mrs. Charlotte Maisch Pettigrew, wife of Frank Pettigrew, died yesterday at the home of her mother, corner West Fifth avenue and Clearfield streets, after a lingering illness from tuberculosis, aged 28 years.

The deceased had been in precarious health for several months and but recently returned to the home of her mother from the Cresson Sanatorium, where she had been in the hope of securing relief.

Mrs. Pettigrew was a fine Christian woman, a devoted member of the Methodist church. She possessed a wide circle of admiring friends who deeply sympathize with her loved ones in their bereavement. She leaves to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother, her husband and one son. She is also survived by her mother, two brothers and one sister.

The funeral will be held from the Maisch home Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Hartman, of Trinity church officiating. Interment in the old cemetery.

CAFETERIA LUNCH

The ladies of Trinity church will serve Thursday evening, February 5th, commencing at five o'clock, the following menu: Fresh baked ham and brown gravy, 15c, potatoes, 10c, baked beans, 10c, relish, 5c, bread and butter, 5c, doughnuts, 5c, sherbet, 10c and coffee, 10c. F2-3t-ch

Take Salts To Finish Kidneys

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or Bladder troubles you—Salts is fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Coughs as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Gently massage Musterole in with the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears. Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

30c and 50c jars; hospital size $2.50.

"ONLY ONE THING BREAKS MY COLD!"

"That's Dr. King's New Discovery for fifty years a cold-breaker!"

NOTHING but sustained quality and unflinching effectiveness can arouse such enthusiasm. Nothing but sure relief from stubborn colds and onrushing new ones, grippe, throat-tearing coughs, and croup could have made Dr. King's New Discovery the nationally popular standard remedy it is today. Fifty years old and always reliable. Good for the whole family. A bottle in the medicine cabinet means a short-lived cold or cough, 50c, and $1.20. All druggists.

Regular Bowels Is Health

Bowels that move spasmodically—free one day and stubborn the next—should be healthfully regulated by Dr. King's New Life Pills. In this way you keep the impurities of waste matter from circulating through the system by cleansing the bowels thoroughly and promoting the proper flow of bile.

Mild, comfortable, yet always reliable, Dr. King's New Life Pills work with precision without the constipation results of violent purgatives. 25c. as usual at all druggists.

REGISTERED DAIRY CATTLE IN DEMAND

H. I. Ramseyer of Smithville, Ohio, visited Clearfield on Tuesday of last week in search of a car load of Registered Guernsey Cattle, but only succeeded in purchasing two head. The breeding of Registered Dairy Cattle is one branch of the industry our farmers have very much neglected. There is a wonderful demand for good healthy Registered Cattle of any of the popular Dairy Breeds, Holstein, Guernsey, Jersey or Ayrshires.

County Agent Sterrett has been endeavoring to awaken the farmers to their opportunity, but with apparently little success. Mr. Ramseyer is the proprietor of Mara Alva Farms, which sold six hundred head in 1919.

REV. BAKER GAVE A GOOD ACCOUNT OF STEWARDSHIP

Sunday last marked the second anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. C. W. Baker, the energetic, broad-gauge pastor of St. John's English Lutheran church, and the occasion was made memorable in the annals of the church by an anniversary celebration which attracted the entire membership to the services.

Rev. Baker and his congregation take just pride in the past two years' accomplishment, and in order that all may see just what has been done within these two short years, we give herewith Rev. Baker's report at yesterday's meeting:

Report of Pastor of English Lutheran Church of Clearfield, Pa.

Covering a Period of Two Years. From Feb. 1st 1918 to Feb 1st 1920.

Already two eventful years have passed since we joined forces as Pastor and People. That much good has been accomplished, is apparent on every side. But the fact that much more should have been done is equally apparent. With the proper support given by the congregation more can be done the coming year. Members, "It is up to You." The outstanding fact today is the joyful one that tells us that we have lifted the indebtedness of $2,000.00 from the church.

Your pastor is not in possession of the accurate figures, but is sure that during the two years just closed, you have contributed to all objects over $8,100.00, of which $2,004.00 was for Benevolence. Looking back a quarter of a century, to the beginning of Rev. Treibly's Pastorate, I discovered that during that time 755 members were added to the church. An average of 31 per year. We have exceeded that number by 13, ("A Baker's Dozen,") per year in the two years of the present pastoral relation, since 88 members have been received in these two years; or an average of 44 per year. This church has not made any very large gains over losses for the last 25 years, because there seems to have passed through this church a constant stream of members, and the stream seems to be flowing larger and faster each year. Hence it greatly behooves us to prove a purifying influence, in the hand of God, to all who may pass this way, as they may never pass again. Officially I have made 1,028 calls; preached 182 sermons; held 98 prayer services; added 88 members baptised 30 infants; solemnized 38 marriages; attended 34 funerals, and instructed 92 catechumens. Let us take courage and unflinchingly go forward in the Master's work, and greater success will surely follow.

Correct.

The teacher had been telling the pupils about the great fornicator, particularly the pines, and had asked if anyone could tell which of the pines had the sharpest needles. Johnny, in the front row, raised his hand and on being asked, said, "The porcupine."

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth face in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

Don't Depend On Spring Deliveries

Spring deliveries of Ford cars have never been certain, and they should not be depended upon. Demand has always been greater than the supply or production. So, if you would be sure of having a Ford car, but it now while deliveries are possible. Don't wait—next month is an uncertainty.

Only a limited, specified number of cars has been allotted this territory. That allotment cannot be increased, because the demand all over the country is greater than the supply or production. Get your order in now, and you will be one of those who is sure of a Ford car out of the allotment.

It's first come—first served. All orders are filled in rotation. If you would be forehanded, if you would be certain of having a Ford car when you want it—then you will buy a Ford car now. A smart move with us is your protection. It is the result of the wisdom of the Ford company.

If you buy a Ford car now, don't think you have to "wait" for Ford is a car made to serve its owner for business or pleasure for the entire year. Ford owners have long since come to recognize that it is no longer popular to "lay-up" your car for the winter. Buy a Ford car now, and use it now.

The First Dose Gave Relief
C. E. Summers, Hollidale, Neb., writes: "Some time ago I contracted a very severe cough and cold due to exposure. My cough got so bad I could hardly sleep for two or three nights. A friend of mine recommended Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and I got a bottle. The very first dose relieved me. I took a second dose before going to bed and can truthfully say I did not cough once all night. By using as directed on cough once all night, my cough was entirely gone, and I give Foley's Honey and Tar full credit for my speedy and permanent recovery."

For more than thirty years Foley's Honey and Tar has been used with satisfaction and success. Sold everywhere.

A Statement

Three months ago this Company organized an Employee's Co-operative Council as a means of forming a closer business relationship between employer and employee. This council also provided definite channels through which any and all grievances might be taken and adjusted through a committee of three elected by the employees and a like committee selected by the management.

Friday evening, January 30th, at 7:30 p. m. the operators on the Clearfield exchange presented an impossible salary demand, with an ultimatum that if the same were not granted they would walk out at eight o'clock Saturday morning. The management pointed out the irregularity and impossibility of this procedure and requested that the matter be taken up in the regular way for adjustment.

The employees refused.

The management then requested an immediate audience with the employees affected for later in the evening. This was likewise refused or declared impossible to get some of the girls together.

A personal interview was then had with two of the operators on duty and an adjustment satisfactory to them as individuals was offered, but they refused to remain on duty unless all of the girls would agree to remain.

The demands made were as impossible as they were unfair, to both employees and employer, and the employees' refusal to consider a method of arbitration resulted in the walk-out this morning.

The action of employees was not only unfair to the company and to the public, but bordered very close to the dishonorable, in that they refused to permit the chief operator admission to the operating room and hid or destroyed rate and other records, property of the company, on the switchboard for their guidance.

In this emergency we appeal to the public and our patrons for their kindly consideration, and to former operators for assistance, temporarily at least.

CHORUS GIRL BEATEN TO DEATH AT CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, Feb. 2.—Police today are investigating the death of Mrs. Francis Stockwell, aged 23, a chorus girl. The body was found late yesterday in the snow in the rear of a rooming house. The girl was beaten and choked to death. Mrs. Stockwell was a member of a company which played here last week. She was seen to enter the house at midnight Saturday with a man dressed in a sailor's uniform. Police said her home was in Philadelphia, and her mother lived in Omaha. A three year old daughter survives.

SOME EGG LAYERS

Mrs. Ezra Brown, of Weaver street, is justly proud of a pen of fifteen Buff Orpington hens which she owns and gives every attention. During the month of January these hens produced a total of 293 eggs, an average of almost ten per day. With egg-ranging from 80 cents to $1.00 per dozen, these hens were surely a valuable asset. Who can beat it?

NAZIMOVA'S OWN VERSION

CLEARFIELD COUNTY SOLISTERS

The amazing Russian artist, Nazimova, is presented in the dual guise of star and dramatist in her newest production, "The Brut" at the Driggs Theatre. Nazimova not only plays the difficult and highly emotional role of "the brut," but it was she who adapted it, in collaboration with Charles Bryant, from the original stage play written by Maude Fulton and starred throughout the United States and Canada.

A number of Nazimova's own ideas are incorporated in the screen version of the great stage success, in the shape of added incidents and twists in the plot. Nazimova, who is an accomplished linguist and musician as well as the foremost actress on the screen today, took as part of her education for the stage, a course in stage direction in Russia. She is both producer and star in her own productions, and her acquaintance with the world-famous books and plays of literature is intimate and extensive.

Beahan's Farm has just completed an official test of two Registered Holstein Heifers. The test was conducted by the Department of Dairy Husbandry of State College, University of Pennsylvania. Mary Ellen Beahan gave 499 pounds of milk and 16 pounds of butter in seven days and Royce Faye Daley gave 401 pounds of milk and 13 pounds of butter. While these are no record breakers they are considered mighty good records for amateurs. Wayne Peoples has been in charge of the feeding and milking of these heifers.

The farm has recently acquired a young bull bred by Friend Hengeman, Butter Bay, who has 44 A. R. O. Daughters and 45 proven sons. He has five daughters that have a record of over 1000 pounds of milk in a year, one of them, Mammoth Belle Dekol, making 1200 pounds, a world's record when made.

THE CLEARFIELD PROGRESS, CLEARFIELD, PA. MONDAY EVENING FEBRUARY 2, 1920

NUMBER 177

POPULATION OF BOROUGH WILL NOT REACH 10,000

CAREFUL CANVASS OF ENTIRE CITY
PROPER INDICATES FIGURES WILL
NOT EXCEED 9600

LAST CENSUS SHOWED ONLY 6851

The taking of the census of Clearfield was finally completed on January 22nd last, and the official returns made to Supervisor of the Census, F. E. Costello, at Bradford. The official announcement of the result of the "count of noses" in Clearfield will not be given until May or June, according to the present plans of the Census Department, and accordingly each census taker was cautioned against giving out any figures pertaining to the number of persons in his particular district.

The local enumerators were:
First Ward—Miss Sara Lawhead.
Second Ward—Ralph W. Pearce.
Third Ward—Ed. C. Bowman.
Fourth Ward—Joseph E. Phillips.

Several people in different sections of town have informed The Progress that the enumerator for his district missed getting the tabulation at his home, and for the purpose of correcting any errors, if such there be, we would like to have all persons whom the enumerators failed to call upon, to notify The Progress office, in order that the matter can be taken up with the enumerator and the census authorities and have the correction made.

The Progress know our people did not want to have to wait for six months after the count was made before finding out just how many people were within the corporate limits of our progressive little city, and in order to relieve them of that long wait, we decided to go into the "nose counting" business on our own hook.

and as we changed our paper currency system the first of the year, we enlisted our army of seventeen carrier boys and our news gathering agencies and went to work. Our count shows that we fall a few hundred short of the 10,000 goal within the corporate limits of the town.

According to our figures, and we guarantee the official count will not deviate one hundred either way, the population of Clearfield numbers 9,600. This total is made up as follows:

First Ward	1,547
Second Ward	3,196
Third Ward	3,080
Fourth Ward	1,877
Total	9,600

The above figures just represent the people resident within the corporate limits of the borough, and fails to take count of the people of Hillside, Wrigley Addition, Snyder Terrace, Plymptonville, Paradise, Kerr Addition, and the other scattered residents located right at the edge of the borough limits. All of these people are within one mile of the Court House and can be justly and very properly styled Clearfielders, and were their number added to the total within the corporate limits, would make Clearfield a town of more than 12,000 people. According to the figures of the 1910 census, there was a total of 6,851 persons in Clearfield borough, the gain during the past ten years amounting to 2,829 persons.

SADLER DECLARES WAR ON ILLEGAL AUTO DRIVING

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 31.—(United Press)—In an article written for a monthly automobile publication, Edward A. Sadler, State Highway Commissioner Lewis Sadler said that "ninety-five per cent. of the drivers of automobiles in Pennsylvania observe the rules of the road and the laws of the state."

Continuing the Commissioner said: "It is in our power to prevent the remaining five per cent. from destroying the utility and pleasure of motoring, and we are going to do it just the same as those in power are going to prevent the 'Red' five per cent. of our population from destroying American institutions."

"Every man and woman of the ninety-five per cent. of owners and drivers of trucks and passenger automobiles who want to obey the laws has a duty to constitute himself a volunteer policeman. Every automobile club in Pennsylvania should train its members to aid in policing the highways."

"We must drive from the highways those who do not observe the rights of others, whose very presence on our thoroughfares is a menace, in whose wakes are death and injury and loss of property."

"It is our duty as the desire of this ninety-five per cent. of us to get the maximum use out of our highways. We want all the people to have the benefit of the roads, but they must not abuse their privileges."

"What a man's rights and privileges are in the use of roads has been interpreted by the legislature in the Act of 1919, and it is our duty to see that this law is observed. People who don't observe it are apt, indeed, to be deprived of their licenses."

"State highways are maintained from the funds secured through the annual vehicle registration fees charged those who use them. From the same fund they are policed. If the presence of criminally negligent or willful violators of the law requires a large force of inspectors to enforce that law, the charge will cut down the funds available for maintenance and the amount of motorists must pay will be increased."

"Shall automobile license fees be increased because willful or negligent men misuse our thoroughfares?"

"Most violations of the law result from thoughtlessness. But motoring has increased to such an extent that the presence of thoughtless persons has become a menace. Drivers of cars must be taught to be thoughtful and alert. It would be an excellent thing were motor clubs to collect information relative to violations of the law, in order to facilitate its administration. Paraphrasing a great American, 'the roads of Pennsylvania will not be safe for any of us to use until they are safe for all of us to use.' We must join together to make it unpopular to be a lawbreaker. We must bring public opinion to the point where there will be no place among us for the man who runs amuck, who drives as he pleases, regardless of the rights of others. And when public sentiment is crystallized to the point where that man is deemed an outlaw who doesn't pursue the rules of the road and observe the motor laws when these careless or indifferent or actually criminal infractions will be deprived of the use of them."

"Men of women who apply for diverse licenses for automobiles, under the law regulating registration for 1920 and thereafter, are asked to tell whether or not they have ever been summoned before any officer of the law for a violation of the act regulating the use and operation of motor vehicles."

"Not only because the State Highway Department wishes to know who are the violators of the law, but because it wants to know whence speed trans exist, or whether certain peace officers are unduly active in making arrests or issuing summons."

"It is as important that motorists be not victimized as it is important that they obey the law; and the department hopes to break up the practices alleged against certain officers who seek not to perform a duty but to get an income."

C. B. SHAW DEAD OF GUNSHOT WOUND

C. B. Shaw, one of the proprietors of the Clearfield Central Garage, and a son of the late A. B. Shaw, was found lying in a box car at the Pennsylvania freight station, shortly after noon today, in a serious condition from a gun-shot wound in the head. He was removed at once to the Clearfield Hospital, where death ensued shortly after his admission.

About the noon hour Forrest Livingston, one of the clerks at the freight station, passed Mr. Shaw coming down the platform as he was going to his dinner. He spoke pleasantly as he passed.

Upon Mr. Livingston's return from dinner, in passing down the platform he heard screams issuing from an open box car on the siding. Stepping into the car he found Mr. Shaw lying on the floor with a small pearl handled revolver lying by his side. An examination disclosed that the badly wounded man had evidently placed the muzzle of the gun in his mouth and sent a bullet through his head.

The deceased was about 50 years of age and his sad end was a horrifying shock to his family and friends.

He is survived by a widow and one son, two brothers and seven sisters.

BIG BILL HAYWOOD AMONG INDICTED BY CHICAGO JURY

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Indictments against thirty-seven members of the I. W. W. were returned this morning by the special grand jury investigating radical activities.

Chief among those indicted were William D. ("Big Bill") Haywood, former secretary of the organization now at liberty from Leavenworth prison under bond, and Thomas Whitehead, who succeeded Haywood as secretary.

Besides Haywood and Whitehead, those indicted include: George Speer, chairman of the I. W. W. executive committee; Charles H. Miller, Henry Bradley, George Bradley and Fred Nelson, all members of the committee.

Another of the prisoners is Roscoe T. Sins, janitor of the Chicago city hall and said to be the leader of the negro branch of the I. W. W.

The indictments were returned secretly before Chief Justice Crowe early this morning. At 10 o'clock the I. W. W. leaders appeared in Judge Pam's court to answer to other charges already pending against them. They were met by agents of the state attorney's office and the thirty-seven principals were sorted out and placed under arrest.

The indictments complete the work of the "red" grand jury. Last week the grand jurors indicted eighty-five members of the Communist party and thirty-eight members of the Communist Labor party.

The charges in all cases are conspiracy to overthrow the government and advocating the overthrow of the government by force.

The indictments of the leading figures in the three radical organizations are the outgrowth of the sensational New Year's eve roundup, in which State's Attorney Madley Hynes, assisting federal authorities by twenty-four hours, arrested more than 300 persons suspected of being members of the three groups.

ALEXANDER HAMILTON IRVIN

Alexander Hamilton Irvin, fourth son of William and Jane Patton Irvin, was born in Curwensville, Pa., May 17th, 1839, and died at his residence in that place on January 31st, 1920, aged seventy years, eight months and fourteen days. He had been in failing health for the past two years, but his last illness was of only two weeks duration. Mr. Irvin was born and died on a plot of ground which has been in the Irvin family for more than a hundred years—a rare occurrence in these days of constant change.

He was united in marriage with Jane Patton Livingston on October 26th, 1876, who died February 27th, 1915. The following children survive: John P. and Daniel L., both of Curwensville, and Mrs. Benjamin Nichols (nee Jane Irvin) of Waters, California. Also one sister, Miss Alice M. Irvin, of Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. Irvin attended the schools of his native town, and also Lawrenceville Academy, Lawrenceville, N. J.; Hill School, Pottstown, Pa.; and Pennsylvania Military Academy, Chester, Pa. He began his business career by locating pine timber lands in Michigan, later crossing the Rockies into Montana where, in connection with English and Japanese capitalists, he engaged in mining operations. He was also interested in timber lands in Texas and Arkansas. Later he became identified with the Disston Land Company of Florida and laid out Henden park in that state.

Returning to Curwensville Mr. Irvin, looking about for a new opening, recognized the business possibilities of the Hotchkiss Paper Fastener and machines, which up to that time had not met with success. He secured from the manufacturers at Norwalk, Conn. the exclusive rights for the sale of this machine in the United States. In order to do this Mr. Irvin had to give a bond guaranteeing to dispose each month of the entire output of the Hotchkiss factory. In view of the fact that the invention was then practically unknown, and he believed to be a failure, and that Mr. Irvin had neither the capital nor the organization to introduce it, the outlook to any ordinary man would have been most discouraging.

It was at this point, however, that Mr. Irvin displayed his astounding and extraordinary ability. With the enthusiasm born of his undaunted faith in the merits of the invention, he interested Fred J. Dyer in the project, and he became associated with him in the business. By personal solicitation and liberal advertising Mr. Irvin soon created such a demand for the machine that all dealers in office supplies were compelled to carry it in stock. In a short time the demand became so great that not only was he disposing of the entire output of the factory, but the plant had to be enlarged to supply his orders.

So great was his success that the Hotchkiss Company gave him sole control of the sale of the machine throughout the world. Mr. Irvin then sailed for Europe and visited the principal cities of England, France, Belgium, Italy, Germany and Austria personally introducing and securing the adoption of the machine in many government departments and large industrial plants.

In the twenty odd years in which Mr. Irvin has been engaged in this business it has grown until today the Hotchkiss machine is known and used in every civilized country on the globe. The daily mail received at his office contains letters from all over the world, and he has verily placed Curwensville "on the map."

A large portion of his success was due to his unusually strong personality, which almost invariably secured him a hearing, and to the fairness of his business methods.

Always public-spirited, no worthy cause ever appealed to him in vain. He was particularly fond of the society of the young, and was never happier than when giving pleasure to his many young friends. A courteous, thoughtful and kind, Mr. Irvin will be missed by the entire community.

The funeral was held from his late residence on Monday, February 2nd, 1920, at 2 o'clock, Rev. E. E. Parkhill, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Lock Haven, Pa., and Rev. Bertina Conley, pastor of the Curwensville Presbyterian church, officiating. The pall-bearers were: F. J. Dyer, C. S. Russell, M. I. Gardner, Miles Porter, A. Z. Wolf, Sr., and M. A. Caldwell. Interment in the family plot in Oak Hill cemetery.

GRAND JURY AT WORK

The Grand Jury for February term of quarter sessions court began its inquiry into the criminal list before them this morning. John H. Anger, of Clearfield, was appointed foreman by Judge Bell. There are 50 cases on the list.

SAFE BLOWERS AT WOODLAND AGAIN

Four men broke into the Pennsylvania passenger station at Woodland at an early hour this morning and blew the office safe to smithereens but were frightened away before they could gather up the money the safe contained and which was tossed and scattered about by the force of the explosion.

The attempted robbery occurred between 1 and 1:30 o'clock, entrance being gained through the ware room which is a part of the station building.

The noise of the explosion awakened Ashley Duke, who lives nearby, and it was Mr. Duke's prompt action which no doubt drove the rogues away without their expected booty. Mr. Duke saw four men at the station and satisfying himself a robbery was under way he got his gun and began to blaze away at the thieves, who promptly beat it down the track.

Agent Henderson was notified and repairing to the scene found the station littered with the busted safe and contents, but reports no booty secured by the thieves.

Constable Barger was soon on the ground and took up the trail of the safeblowers but they appear to have made good their getaway.

CLEARFIELD COUNTY FAIR DATES ARE SEPT. 27 TO OCT. 1

Secretary Joseph E. Phillips, of the Clearfield County Agricultural Society, attended the meeting of the Pennsylvania State Association of County Fairs held in Pittsburgh on Wednesday last. The dates for the county fairs to be held throughout the state during 1920, were fixed at this meeting.

There are two fair circuits in the Western part of the state and the local Agricultural Society joined both these circuits and was given dates for their fair in each circuit. At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Agricultural Society held this morning it was decided to affiliate this year with what is known as the Keystone Short Ship Circuit and accept the date allotted the Clearfield County Fair of from September 28th to October 1st.

This date was chosen because it will give our farmers the opportunity of making a better display of their farm products, as about all Clearfield county crops are fully matured at that time. Besides the fall equinoctial storms will be over by that time and settled weather may be expected.

The Clearfield County Fair will be the week following the Altoona Fair and races, and will thus make it possible to secure a better and larger class of race horses for Clearfield, as it is expected the horses will be shipped from Altoona to Clearfield and from Clearfield to New Kensington the following week.

A new grand stand, new stables and many other improvements will be made at the park this year and the Clearfield County Fair for 1920 made the biggest event of its kind to be held in Central Pennsylvania.

LODGE WILL ASK TREATY BE TAKEN UP AT ONCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Senator Lodge today gave formal notice to the Senate that on next Monday he will ask unanimous consent that the Senate rule be suspended and the peace treaty reservations be taken up. If the unanimous consent is refused, Lodge announced he will move to suspend the rule. Lodge's announcement, made just after the Senate met, apparently astounded the Democratic Senators who asked him to repeat it. The surprise was due to the fact that Senator Walsh, of Montana, gave notice on behalf of Senator Hitchcock that the latter would move on February 10, to take up the treaty. Lodge thus forestalled Hitchcock's move as the Senate will open debate on his motion a day before Hitchcock's.

LORD GREY SAYS RESERVATIONS WILL NOT NULLIFY TREATY

The ratification of the peace treaty without reservations is not entirely necessary to the full accomplishment of all the aims of the framers of the league of nations covenant, in the opinion of Lord Grey, British Ambassador to Washington, in a letter to the London Times in which he explains to the people of his country the reasons for the refusal of certain senators to accept the league, a la Wilson.

According to this letter, the fair minded Briton does not blame us for holding on to a few of the prerogatives of an independent nation. He says, "no charge of bad faith or repudiating signatures can be brought against the action of the United States. The Senate, by the American constitution, is an independent body—an independent element in the treaty making power. Its refusal to ratify the covenant cannot expose either itself or the country to a charge of bad faith or of repudiation, nor is it fair to represent the United States as holding up the treaty solely from motives of party politics."

Affirming that the league issue is national and above party politics Lord Grey declares that the United States has reason and right to provide against its pitfalls if there be any. His exposition of the case is clear and convincing:

"There is in the United States a conservative feeling for traditional policy, and one of those traditions, consecrated by the advice of Washington, is to abstain from foreign and particularly from European entanglements. Even for nations which have been used to European alliances, the League of Nations is felt to be something of a new departure. This is still more true for the United States, which has hitherto held aloof from all outside alliances. The League of Nations is not merely a plunge into the unknown but a plunge into something which its historical advice and tradition have hitherto positively disapproved. Hence this desire for some qualification and reservation. The American constitution not only makes possible, but under certain conditions renders inevitable, conflict between the executive and the legislative. It would be possible, if the covenant of the League of Nations stands, for a President in some future years to commit the United States, through its American representative on the council of the League of Nations, to a policy which the legislature at that time might disapprove. That contingency is one which cannot arise in Great Britain, where the government is daily responsible to the representative authority of the House of Commons, and where, in case of conflict between the House of Commons and the government, the latter must either immediately give way or public opinion must decide between them and assert itself by an immediate general election. But in the United States it is otherwise. The contingency is within the region of practical politics. They have reason, and, if they so desire, the right to provide against it."

That American reservations will not weaken the league is the belief of Lord Grey.

"It would be a great mistake to suppose that because the citizens of the United States wish to limit their obligations they therefore propose to themselves to play a small part in the league of nations. If they enter the league as a willing partner with limited obligations, it may well be that American opinion and American action inside the league will be more fruitful than if they entered as a reluctant partner, who felt that her hand had been forced. It is in this spirit, in this hope and in this expectation that I think we should approach and are justified in approaching the consideration of the American reservations. The difficulties and dangers which Americans foresee in it will probably never arise or be felt by them when they are once in the league. In the same way the weakening and injury to the league which some of its best friends apprehend from American reservations would not be felt in practice."

Checks are Essential

The people who use bank checks could hardly do without them and nothing can take the place of personal checks.

Your personal check on the Bank is a dated and signed order for the Bank to pay from your funds on deposit, the amount in dollars and cents, to the person you name.

Each check does its work in a reliable way, and furnishes you a trustworthy record of each transaction for your future reference. The amount stays paid. If you do not pay with checks, begin now. Make arrangements here.

PROBLEMS FACING STRICKEN WORLD

Shall Chaos or Reconstruction in Europe Follow the Great World War?

NEW, GREAT FORCES AT WORK

Demand for New Order of Things is Universal and Reactionaries Merely Swell the Rising Tide of Discontent.

Article IV.

By FRANK COMERFORD.

The most obvious thing in Europe is the changed attitude of the people, and yet there are many, particularly in the conservative, employing class, who refuse to see. While they close their eyes and minds to the obvious, the change goes on. It is not idle rhetoric to say that new great forces are at work. Of course you cannot see the forces any more than you can see the grass growing, but you can see the effects. You can measure the character of the forces.

Everywhere I found people talking about a new Order. Men separated by hundreds of miles are thinking and talking the same ideas. It startled me to hear the same ideas up in the Balkans that I had heard in France and England. I did not meet any one who was able to give me a clear, complete meaning of the phrase, but it is on the lips of everyone. It has a meaning, and time will produce a plan. The people are forward looking—they are thinking, waiting for something to happen. They have faith that it will happen and that it will bring great good to the human race. Every one seems confident that some great compensation must and will come out of the siege of suffering through which they have passed. If they were not so earnest, so sane, so determined about it I should have interpreted their enthusiasm as fantasy.

A meaningless minority of reactionaries scorn and scoff at all talk of a new Order. These are the backward-looking men of big business, the standard-bearers in politics. They are out of touch with the times; they think the real world is the little circle in which they live. They are the barnacles on big business. They smugly set down all talk of change as bolshevism. Fortunately the real leaders of business are breaking away from this point of view. Progressive, human and open minded, they see and know that unrest is a problem and that it must be solved. They are paying heed to the complaints of the workers. They admit that there is justice back of the complaints. Instead of arguing coercion, they are talking concession. They know a change has come, they want to meet it.

New Order Must Come.

A new Order will come. The one question that is bothering the minds of men who are awake to the change is, will it come through revolution or through evolution. The greatest friend of revolution is the stubborn employer who refuses to see the change, accepts things as they are, and insists upon the use of force as the only cure for unrest.

Money is a gross thing when compared with human life. To mention Europe's financial losses in the same breath with her dead and wounded, seems sordid, but it is an everyday world and in it money has its logical place. Since the war some people are thinking that money has had too important a place in the world. It has been charged with pushing man out of his place, but bills must be paid and Europe needs money. The war cost billions and had to be paid and paid in shells, rifles, cannons, airplanes, ships, were made. Europe owes the money. How will she pay it; where will she get it? It is a question that even the wisest and most optimistic of men in Europe hesitate to answer. Some wonder, is there an answer?

Europe has borrowed until her interest charge today is almost as large as her whole cost of governmental administration was a few years ago. I heard Lloyd George say that England faced a yearly interest charge of three hundred million pounds. Another official told me that this interest charge that England must pay each year is nearly one hundred million pounds a year larger than the cost of administration was at the time of the first war. Only the other day her interest was due on some loans from the United States and she was forced to default, and our government charged the interest to the principal and passed the day of payment on. In the meantime the pound is going down in value. When I was on the Continent it had reached $1.14. Today it is under $0.87, and steadily going down.

France is in even a worse plight. The banks are loaded with government paper. She has made no provision by taxation to pay her debt. I was told on every hand that any effort to impose a tax would bring on a revolution. It is said that her debt has reached the staggering figure of $640 for every man, woman and child in the country. When I left Cherbourg to sail for America a regulation had been put into effect prohibiting any one leaving France from taking money

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headaches are caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons collect, being sucked into the blood by the heart, which pumps the blood so fast that it congests the in the smaller arteries and veins of the head, producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilid, aspirin or the bromides, which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drunk before breakfast, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache, but will cleanse, purify and freshen the alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphated hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

SMALL IRISH TOWN PUTS ECONOMIC BLOCKADE INTO EFFECT AGAINST ULSTER

By WEBB MILLER

DUBLIN. (By Mail).—Tuam, a little town of 3,000 inhabitants in Galway on the west coast of Ireland, is the pioneer in the "economic blockade of Ulster" plan which the Sinn Féiners are advocating to force the Ulsterites into political submission. The originators of the economic pressure scheme planned to hold it over the head of Ulster as a threat until the crisis on the home rule bill, but headstrong Tuam refused to wait.

So a large number of merchants of Tuam have started to sever commercial relations with the north. And the powerful Ulster business interests are beginning to realize how serious such a "blockade" would be if it becomes general throughout the south.

In the first week of economic warfare one Belfast traveling salesman had twenty-three longstanding accounts closed by Tuam merchants, some running as high as $70,000 a year, while the total of the cancelled accounts aggregated over a quarter of a million dollars. Meanwhile the salesmen failed to book a single order.

Although Tuam, trade does not "cut much ice" in Belfast, the incident has aroused the apprehensions of the big business interests of the northern metropolis, and shown them the serious possibilities of a general extension of the boycott.

The advocates of the scheme declare that in case it becomes necessary to extend the boycott to other towns, the people will be called upon to boycott any stores that refuse to fall in line with the blockade.

They assert that more than twenty-five percent of Belfast's trade is distributed through and that such a boycott would hit Belfast a heavy blow. They are convinced that the business men would go to almost any lengths to avoid the extension to other cities.

with him, either metal or paper money, in excess of a thousand francs, and on that day you could buy almost nine francs for an American dollar. Can France pay? The figures prove France insolvent. Her officials and her men of prominence say she cannot pay. Her war debt is enormous.

Poverty on Every Side.

Italy is as bankrupt as France. A forced loan temporarily held the lira from losing all its value. Her war debt threatens the throne.

In the new Balkan countries we find no gold reserve, little but poverty. In Czechoslovakia the government closed the borders for ten days, commanded the people to bring their money to the banks where stamps were put on the bills. When they brought their money they were given 50 per cent of it back and receipts for the balance. In this way the government cut down the volume of paper money 50 per cent. Even after this was done in the city of Prague I bought trousers for less than two cents a piece.

In Poland every kind and species of paper money is in circulation. Her founders have not been fixed by the peace table, and the profiteers in money smuggling have dumped the worthless paper of Europe into Poland. In October I was in Warsaw and my recollection is that the mark was worth about two cents in American money. Poland has no metal money. She hasn't a gold reserve. Her struggle to get credit to keep her people from dying by the millions from hunger and cold is pitiful.

Austria is penniless, poverty-stricken. Vienna is a city of ghosts, listless, hopeless, human beings. They drag their feet after them. Their heads are bent between their shoulders. The kronen was worth a cent when I was there in September, and even at that price there was practically nothing to buy. Austria in her extremity, her people starving, petitioned the peace table for the privilege of selling her art treasures and her books. The plan was to exchange them for bread and coal. Necessity prompted the plan. The peace table refused the permission, holding that these things of value might be the only collateral out of which the allies could collect the indemnity.

Europe's debt is her crown of thorns, as her dead is her cross. Unrest is her Calvary. A new order is Facing Gigantic Task.

Europe is not dying; she is exhausted, tortured, confused. She is trying to find herself. She is putting all of her remaining strength into the effort. The task before her is stupendous. She must rebuild her house. She must nurse her wounded, care for her cripples. She has counted her losses, inventoried her possessions. The past must bury its dead. Tomorrow is for the living. Today she is planning for the tomorrow. She must repair her house, put it in order. To understand her work, to know her plans, to feel her problem, it is necessary to know her thoughts. Unrest is frightening her. Fear is keeping her from work. It is causing her to worry. With all her soul she is pleading to the rich and powerful to become as little children again, her children. She is telling them that the fate of the family is at stake, that they must make concessions to their more unfortunate brothers. She is more unfortunate brothers. She is trying to make them understand that they are brothers. Many of them have forgotten the relationship. When she urges them to stop wrangling and quarreling she is pleading for their common good, the family welfare. She is warning against the danger of justice too long denied, of unrest too long vented up. She is translating the mutterings and mumblings of the discontented. She knows the complaint in their hearts, she sympathizes, she understands.

This was Europe as I saw her in her black rags arising from the war. (Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

Shoemakers' Wax a Liquid.

It is not always possible to draw a very clear line of demarcation between a liquid and a solid. Shoemakers' wax, which is so brittle that the fragmentation obtained when a sheet of it is hit by a hammer resembles that in the case of the very brittle metal antimony, is actually a liquid. To show this place leaden bullets upon a sheet of shoemakers' wax and then support the whole upon corks. At the end of a month the corks will be found floating upon the sheet of wax instead of beneath it and the bullets will be at the bottom as in a liquid.

Carrying a Ton a Mile for less than a Cent

Freight rates have played a very small part in the rising cost of living.

Other causes—the waste of war, under-production, credit inflation—have added dollars to the cost of the necessities of life, while freight charges have added only cents.

The average charge for hauling a ton of freight a mile is less than a cent.

A suit of clothing that sold for $30 before the war was carried 2,265 miles by rail from Chicago to Los Angeles for 16½ cents.

Now the freight charge is 22 cents and the suit sells for $50.

The cost of the suit has increased 20 dollars.
The freight on it has increased only 5½ cents.

Other transportation charges enter into the cost of the finished article—carrying the wool to the mills and the cloth to the tailors—but these other charges amount to but a few cents more.

The $10 pair of shoes that used to sell for $5 goes from the New England factory to the Florida dealer for a freight charge of 53 cents—only one cent more than the pre-war rate.

Beef pays only two-thirds of a cent a pound freight from Chicago to New York.

American freight rates are the lowest in the world.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. contemplate holding an apron social in the basement parlors of the M. E. church on Friday evening, February 6. An interesting program has been arranged to take place, after which refreshments will be served.

Mr. Dunning, who was employed at the Blackford refractories plant for some time has resigned and removed with his family to Williamsport.

C. A. Rorabaugh, the insurance man is now comfortably located with his office in a room on corner of Main and Thompson streets.

Several cases of the "flu" are reported in Pike township, within one mile of the borough limits. The afflicted persons are Mrs. George McClure and son, who make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hartzfeld.

Teddy Rocco, leader of the Crescent band and employed as an office retainer at the brick works, will leave in a few days for his old home in Italy.

Miss Louisa Kaystetter has gone to Philadelphia where she will enter as a student nurse in the University hospital. She was accompanied by her mother, who will spend a week in the city with friends.

Miss Clara Passorelli left Sunday for Philadelphia where she will resume her duties in becoming a trained nurse in the Temple hospital.

Miss Esther Robinson left on Sunday for Pittsburgh where she will be the guest of her sister and other relatives for the next two weeks.

Mrs. Mary McNaull and Mrs. J. A. Bloom have gone to Carnegie where they will spend several weeks visiting in the family of Fred Bloom and wife.

All of the fraternal and secret societies of Curwensville are busily engaged in building up their membership. The Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Red Men and Moose, all have classes of initiates who are receiving their first lessons in the unwritten work of the organizations to which they are attaching themselves.

Great complaint is being voiced at all of the mines and brick yards of the scarcity of cars in which to ship their product. The mines were idle several days last week, while at both brick yards at Lumber City and here brick are piling up in the stock sheds to such an extent as to discommode the plants from running in full. The shipments from the Curwensville yard would have reached 4,000,000 bricks could a sufficient number of cars been obtained.

Mrs. John P. Irvin has been confined to her home the past week by illness.

Gary Bronetti was taken suddenly ill Saturday night. For some hours his condition was critical, but at this writing it is thought that he has passed the danger line.

Mrs. A. K. Draucker, of Philadelphia, spent several days in town among friends the latter part of last week. She came to Clearfield to attend the funeral of her brother Geo. J. Thompson.

John Hummel died Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock at his home on Bloomington avenue, of pneumonia, coupled with stomach and liver trouble, aged about 50 years, 9 months. He was employed at the brick yard and one week ago was taken ill. He was born and raised in Brady township and was married to a Miss Winkert, who survives him with three sons and one daughter. His funeral will be held from the home on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Connelly officiating. Interment in Oak Hill cemetery.

Harry Ogden lost a valuable horse out of his team. The animal was kicked on a leg and had it broken, necessitating the killing of the animal.

Mrs. S. C. Watts is reported ill and is confined to her home by an attack of tonsillitis.

A number of young folks drove to Lumber City Friday evening and spent several hours in the home of Katherine Hile.

In the death of Alexander H. Irvin,

which occurred at his home on River street on Saturday, January 31st, Curwensville loses another one of its worthy, charitable and enterprising citizens. His death was not a surprise to the community, as the word had been passed from home to home that his physical ailment had passed all medical skill and that his death was only of a moment, and his family could do nothing to relieve pain and suffering, but only watch for the end. Alexander H. Irvin was the youngest son of William and Jane P. Irvin, and was born in Curwensville in the year 1850. After reaching manhood, he engaged in the lumber business, and during middle life was interested in various other business pursuits, which he managed quite successfully. He was united in marriage to Miss Jennie Livingston a daughter of Daniel and Elizabeth Livingston and to this union five children were born, two of whom died in infancy. His wife died February 28, 1915. Deceased was a charitable man and during his life gave to the poor and needy almost one-half of his income. By his death the entire William Irvin family consisting of nine children have passed away, with one exception. Miss Alice Irvin, who resides in Philadelphia. Deceased is survived by two sons, John P. and Daniel L. Irvin, both residing in Curwensville, and one daughter, Mrs. Jane Nichols, who lives in Arizona. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon from the home. Rev. Connelly of the Presbyterian church conducting the services. Interment in Oak Hill cemetery.

MRS. FRANK PETTIGREW DIES

Mrs. Charlotte Maisch Pettigrew, wife of Frank Pettigrew, died yesterday at the home of her mother, corner West Fifth avenue and Clearfield streets, after a lingering illness from tuberculosis, aged 28 years.

The deceased had been in precarious health for several months and but recently returned to the home of her mother from the Cresson Sanatorium, where she had been in the hope of securing relief.

Mrs. Pettigrew was a fine Christian woman, a devoted member of the Methodist church. She possessed a wide circle of admiring friends who deeply sympathize with her loved ones in their bereavement. She leaves to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother, her husband and one son. She is also survived by her mother, two brothers and one sister.

The funeral will be held from the Maisch home Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Hartman, of Trinity church officiating. Interment in the old cemetery.

CAFETERIA LUNCH

The ladies of Trinity church will serve Thursday evening, February 5th, commencing at five o'clock, the following menu: Fresh baked ham and brown gravy, 15c, potatoes, 10c, baked beans, 10c, relish, 5c, bread and butter, 5c, doughnuts, 5c, sherbet, 10c and coffee, 10c. F2-3t-ch

Take Salts To Finish Kidneys

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or Bladder troubles you—Salts is fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

"YOU'RE LOOKING YOUNGER EVERY DAY, WYETH"

Gray, faded hair turned beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night, is a reality, if you'll take the trouble to mix sage tea and sulphur, but what is the use, you get a large bottle of the ready-to-use tonic, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at drug stores here. Millions of bottles of "Wyeth's" are sold annually, says a well-known druggist, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has happened.

You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and apply it to the hair, and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time.

have a surprise awaiting them, because after just one application the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful. This is the age of youth, gray-haired, unattractive folks don't want to be around, so get busy with the Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be amazed at your youthful appearance and the real beauty and healthy condition of your hair within a few days. Inquiry at drug stores here shows that they all sell lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and the folks using it are enthusiastic. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

REGISTERED DAIRY CATTLE IN DEMAND

H. I. Ramseyer of Smithville, Ohio, visited Clearfield on Tuesday of last week in search of a car load of Registered Guernsey Cattle, but only succeeded in purchasing two head. The breeding of Registered Dairy Cattle is one branch of the industry our farmers have very much neglected. There is a wonderful demand for good healthy Registered Cattle of any of the popular Dairy Breeds, Holstein, Guernsey, Jersey or Ayrshires.

County Agent Sterrett has been endeavoring to awaken the farmers to their opportunity, but with apparently little success. Mr. Ramseyer is the proprietor of Mara Alva Farms, which sold six hundred head in 1919.

REV. BAKER GAVE A GOOD ACCOUNT OF STEWARDSHIP

Sunday last marked the second anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. C. W. Baker, the energetic, broad-gauge pastor of St. John's English Lutheran church, and the occasion was made memorable in the annals of the church by an anniversary celebration which attracted the entire membership to the services.

Rev. Baker and his congregation take just pride in the past two years' accomplishment, and in order that all may see just what has been done within these two short years, we give herewith Rev. Baker's report at yesterday's meeting:

Report of Pastor of English Lutheran Church of Clearfield, Pa.

Covering a Period of Two Years. From Feb. 1st 1918 to Feb 1st 1920.

Already two eventful years have passed since we joined forces as Pastor and People. That much good has been accomplished, is apparent on every side. But the fact that much more should have been done is equally apparent. With the proper support given by the congregation more can be done the coming year. Members, "It is up to You." The outstanding fact today is the joyful one that tells us that we have lifted the indebtedness of $2,000.00 from the church.

Your pastor is not in possession of the accurate figures, but is sure that during the two years just closed, you have contributed to all objects over $8,100.00, of which $2,004.00 was for Benevolence. Looking back a quarter of a century, to the beginning of Rev. Treibly's Pastorate, I discovered that during that time 755 members were added to the church. An average of 31 per year. We have exceeded that number by 13, ("A Baker's Dozen,") per year in the two years of the present pastoral relation, since 88 members have been received in these two years; or an average of 44 per year. This church has not made any very large gains over losses for the last 25 years, because there seems to have passed through this church a constant stream of members, and the stream seems to be flowing larger and faster each year. Hence it greatly behooves us to prove a purifying influence, in the hand of God, to all who may pass this way, as they may never pass again. Officially I have made 1,028 calls; preached 182 sermons; held 98 prayer services; added 88 members baptised 30 infants; solemnized 38 marriages; attended 34 funerals, and instructed 92 catechumens. Let us take courage and unflinchingly go forward in the Master's work, and greater success will surely follow.

Correct.

The teacher had been telling the pupils about the great forests, particularly the pines, and had asked if anyone could tell which of the pines had the sharpest needles. Johnny, in the front row, raised his hand and on being asked, said, "The porcupine."

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth face in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

Don't Depend On Spring Deliveries

Spring deliveries of Ford cars have never been certain, and they should not be depended upon. Demand has always been greater than the supply or production. So, if you would be sure of having a Ford car, but it now while deliveries are possible. Don't wait—the next month is an uncertainty.

Only a limited, specified number of cars has been allotted this territory. That allotment cannot be increased, because the demand all over the country is greater than the supply or production. Get your order in now, and you will be one of those who is sure of a Ford car out of the allotment.

It's first come—first served. All orders are filled in rotation. If you would be forehanded, if you would be certain of having a Ford car when you want it—then you will buy a Ford car now. A smart move with us is your protection. It is the result of the wisdom of the Ford company.

If you buy a Ford car now, don't think you have to "wait." Ford is a car made to serve its owner for business or pleasure for the entire year. Ford owners have long since come to recognize that it is no longer popular to "lay-up" your car for the winter. Buy a Ford car now, and use it now.

A Statement

Three months ago this Company organized an Employee's Co-operative Council as a means of forming a closer business relationship between employer and employee. This council also provided definite channels through which any and all grievances might be taken and adjusted through a committee of three elected by the employees and a like committee selected by the management.

Friday evening, January 30th, at 7:30 p. m. the operators on the Clearfield exchange presented an impossible salary demand, with an ultimatum that if the same were not granted they would walk out at eight o'clock Saturday morning. The management pointed out the irregularity and impossibility of this procedure and requested that the matter be taken up in the regular way for adjustment.

The employees refused.

The management then requested an immediate audience with the employees affected for later in the evening. This was likewise refused or declared impossible to get some of the girls together.

A personal interview was then had with two of the operators on duty and an adjustment satisfactory to them as individuals was offered, but they refused to remain on duty unless all of the girls would agree to remain.

The demands made were as impossible as they were unfair, to both employees and employer, and the employees' refusal to consider a method of arbitration resulted in the walk-out this morning.

The action of employees was not only unfair to the company and to the public, but bordered very close to the dishonorable, in that they refused to permit the chief operator admission to the operating room and hid or destroyed rate and other records, property of the company, on the switchboard for their guidance.

In this emergency we appeal to the public and our patrons for their kindly consideration, and to former operators for assistance, temporarily at least.

Leonardson's---Quality Rummage Sale Creates Interest

To see the folks rummaging round in the basement, picking up the bargains is just another evidence of the timeliness of our great event.

Lots and lots of reasonable merchandise is on sale at prices that in many cases are just a fraction of their former costs.

Come and rummage—you'll save money.
